A STEWARDSHIP MOMENT

Fifth Sunday of Easter Weekend of April 27/28, 2024

Jesus offers a quintessential stewardship statement in today's Gospel reading: "Whoever remains in me and I in him will bear much fruit, because without me you can do nothing." Jesus Christ offers us the fullness of eternal life. Do our lives reveal that this is what we want? Do we believe that by hearing the Word of the Lord and responding we not only produce "good fruit," but abide in the very life of God

The name of Renee Gonzales was misspelled in last week's bulletin. Sorry for the error.

ST. ANTONY OF THE DESERT

St. Antony of the Desert is back after being lovingly restored by Kim Mosley, a wonderful artist trained in Pietrasanta, Italy who has done extensive work for St. Theresa's in Kihei and St. Joseph's in Makawao and has been featured in No Ka 'Oi Maui Magazine. We are blessed to have her work on repairing our statues. St. Antony's work was extensive, as he had a broken hand, needed stripping and repainting and removal of mold.

This Sunday's Gospel
Thoughts for the Week

April 28, 2024

Remain in Jesus as the Father tends and cares for us.

(Reading in Blue Missal pg. 353)

1st Reading Acts 9: 26-31
Paul's Conversion

If one is acquainted with what Saul, later called Paul, had done to the Church of Jerusalem one can understand that at his return this Church did not trust him. Only after Barnabas consented to sponsor him was Paul accepted as a disciple. This reading brings out to us that a living relationship with God and Christ alone is not enough. Our relationship with God should be carried by a living relationship with a congregation. Back in Jerusalem, Saul tried to join the disciples. Once accepted, Saul stayed on with them. Do not try to "go it alone" as a Christian. You need a congregation and the congregation needs you. Without being exclusive, have some Catholic friends who feel about religion as you do. There are very few things we do alone successfully.

Responsorial Psalm: I will praise you, Lord, in the assembly of your people.

2nd Reading 1 John 3: 18-24
Love in Action

The sacred author teaches that we should accept all the consequences of being a Christian. Love implies deeds! Only talking about it is not truthful. Faith implies keeping the commandments. Check your conscience!

Gospel John 15: 1-8
Vine and the Branches

Since the Bible originated in a country where vines and grapes were part of the daily scenery, it is understandable that the vine-image is used so often to explain religious values. In this passage it is used to tell us that Christians must live in Christ and let Christ live in them. There should be an "I-thou," a person-to-person relationship between you and the living Lord Jesus. As already mentioned this is possible only if we have first learned to relate to one another. A human openness to others is a condition for openness to the transcendent, God and Jesus Christ. Develop both! Encounter the Lord Jesus in prayerful Bible reading, listening and responding, but also in your fellow human beings.
