PENTECOST

"Peace be with you. As the Father has sent me, so I send you."

John 20:21

A Stewardship Moment: This weekend we celebrate the feast of Pentecost and the coming of the Holy Spirit among the believers of the early Church. Saint Paul reminds us of the special power the Holy Spirit has bestowed upon us and how that power gives us the potential to live extraordinary lives of faith. Good stewards recognize this power and use their gifts, through God's channel of grace, to transform their lives and the lives of others, and thus hasten God's Kingdom. Good stewards know that it is through the Holy Spirit that they can proclaim: "Jesus is Lord." Do we believe that Jesus is Our Lord? If so, how do we show it?

This Sunday's Gospel
Thoughts for the Week
May 28, 2023

1st Reading Acts 2:1-11
Coming of the Spirit

The Bible, especially the New Testament, should never be read in the past tense. It is God's word to you and me now! Jesus is alive. His Spirit is with every Christian. This is the meaning of the Christ event, meaningfully celebrated at Easter, Ascension, and Pentecost, three aspects of the one mystery.

Luke follows the early Christian custom of celebrating the communication of the Spirit at the conclusion of the "great fifty days," our Pentecost. Hence, he relates the outpouring of the Spirit as we have it in the First Reading. John puts the communication of the Spirit on Easter day (Gospel). The gift of the Spirit is one with the risen Lord Jesus. Notice that both traditions stress that the Christian message is not just for the Jews but for all people.

Responsorial Psalm: Lord, send out your Spirit, and renew the face of the earth.

2nd Reading 1 Cor 12:3b-7,12-13
Grace of the Spirit

Paul is concerned about his congregation in Corinth. In it, a charismatic group has originated and glossolalia (speaking in tongues) is practiced. Its effect on the congregation has not been good. Those who have failed to participate are looked upon as second-class Christians and divisiveness has ensued. Paul does not condemn the movement. He sees in it the Spirit at work. But on the other hand he stresses that the outpouring of the Spirit must build up the community (the body of Christ), not tear it apart. To have the Spirit means, first of all, to confess: "Jesus is Lord." This is done in various ways, not just by speaking in tongues. Each gift, even the least spectacular one, must be used for the common good! This could be a reminder to contemporary movements and counter-movements in the Church.

Gospel Jn 20:19-23
Christ Imparts the Spirit

Sometimes this reading is called "the Pentecost according to John." The theological background has been explained above. Notice that Jesus uses the symbolism of "breathing," when he communicates his Spirit to the disciples. Breath was the sign of life for the ancient Hebrews, and we ourselves still practice mouth-to-mouth resuscitation in a case of emergency. This symbolism of "breathing" reminds us also of the first verse of the Bible, where the "ruah Yahweh" (breath-spirit of the Creator-God) is mentioned as the life-giving and animating principle of all creation.
