This Sunday's Gospel
Thoughts for the Week
July 10, 2022

1st Reading Dt 30:10-14
Obeying the Law

The Book of Deuteronomy (which means "Second Law") is a series of sermons or meditations on the Law of Moses. This passage seems to have been composed during the exile in Babylon. The author lets Moses speak figuratively. We should heed the voice of the Lord. It is not far away. It is in your heart. In Christian terminology, follow your informed conscience, through which God speaks to you.

This reading prepares us to listen to the Gospel, which deals with God's commandments. Make the Responsorial Psalm your prayer when you need guidance in life.

Responsorial Psalm:

Turn to the Lord in your need, and you will live.

2nd Reading Col 1:15-20
The Primacy of Christ

We have read in the "Wisdom literature" of the Bible that Wisdom in God was personified and seen as an agent through whom God had created the world and preserved it. Paul sees God's Wisdom incarnated in Jesus Christ. God revealing himself and acting in Jesus is the same God who creates and preserves the universe. Hence, creation is basically good though corrupted by evil.

Christ's task was to restore things, "to reconcile all things for him." In baptized Christians God's design has been restored; we are reconciled with God "by the blood of his cross."

Gospel Lk 10:25-37
The Good Samaritan

Jesus' commandment of love of God and neighbor is actually a combination of Deuteronomy 6:5 and Leviticus 19:18. We cannot love God without loving our neighbor, nor conversely is love of neighbor possible without love of God. The insight of faith helps us to see the reason why. Faith tells us that all human beings are God's children. He loves all of them. You cannot possibly love parents and exclude their children from your love. The other way around, faith tells us that what you do for the least of your brothers you do for God (Mt 25:40).

Love of God must motivate you; otherwise you will confine your love to those you like, and eventually behave like the priest and Levite in the Parable of the Good Samaritan. Being a good Samaritan requires faith, which tells me that all people, regardless of race, creed, or color, are brothers and sisters of one heavenly Father.

PASTOR'S CORNER

My Dear Brothers and Sisters/ Parishioners / Co-sojourners as Kula Catholic Community,

To obey the Lord means to love him and love our neighbors, but to love means to set aside and sacrifice our own priorities and being at the service of anyone who is in need. We should not take advantage on the victims of crimes and injustices. It should never happen that legal papers are done only after bribe money is dropped in their drawers; constructions and other projects are being rushed just because the next election is at hand. Sometimes we make excuses and blame the victims. In our time it is more a serious matter. For instance, who will rush to help a fallen stranger while the shooting is still going on? We are all called to love God and neighbor; to be a good American, a good Indian, a good Asian etc... that would make us good Christians.

Father Anton

Here are a few emailed thank you notes to our Parish received from those who used their credit card to purchase scrips!

"Well done event and great auction. Mahalo!"
