This Sunday's Gospel
Thoughts for the Week
August 28th, 2022

1st Reading Sir 3:17-18, 20, 28-29
Humility

“Humble yourself...and you will find favor with God.” The writer of Sirach is a keen observer of his fellow humans. People addicted to pride, full of pretensions, are like actors who constantly play the roles of other characters but never their own. They cannot be great in God's eyes. Humble persons know that they depend entirely on God. “God, in your goodness, you have made a home for the poor [me].”

Responsorial Psalm:

God, in your good-ness, you have made a home for the poor.

2nd Reading Heb 12:18-19, 22-24a
The Heavenly Jerusalem

The Old Testament imagery for the greatness of God consists of clouds, fire, storm, angels, blasting trumpets, thunder, and lightning. This imagery is lavishly used at the manifestation of God on Mount Sinai. People were warned not to break through toward the Lord in order to see him (Ex 19:16-25). They might be struck down.

The author of Hebrews refers to this theophany (manifestation of God) and compares it with the theophany on Mount Zion, located in heaven, where we will see God without trembling and fear. But coming to this mountain in heaven, meeting God there face to face and partaking in his banquet is granted only to the humble, as today's Gospel teaches us.

Gospel Lk 14:1, 7-14
The Reward of Humility

Jesus relates a parable and an exhortation to his host. The parable is not just a lesson in good table manners. Rather, it refers to the Messianic Banquet of the end-time. Attendance depends on the invitation of God. And only those who are humble and in need of salvation will be there.

Are you self-sufficient or in need of God? The exhortation to the host suggests that our acceptance of fellow humans now has something to do with our own acceptance at the Messianic Banquet later.

PASTOR'S CORNER

My Dear Brothers and Sisters/ Parishioners / Co-sojourners as Kula Catholic Community,

True humility brings true joy.

There is no real honor except being honored by God. We always want the best part, the finest things and highest honor before others but the Lord of Heaven and Earth made himself a man and becomes a slave to all. So, as we take pride in being friends with the worldly leaders, celebrities and the rich and famous, let us not forget to be a true friend with Christ the Lord. In fact, let us remember that all of us are equal children of our God in Baptism. When we die, whether rich or poor you can bring nothing with us. In observation of the bones of the dead, Alexander the great could not see any difference at all between that of his father and the slaves.

Let us give honor to God and welcome Him as a special guest in our homes, in our nation and in our world so that there will be no war and fighting because of the proud but only peace and harmony, and that he will honor us the peacemakers, the humble, and the poor in spirit.

Father Anton
